

Copper Hill Inc. Announces New Group of Services in Export Control and Compliance, Led by Nick Sbroglia

Livonia, Michigan (June 14, 2023) - Copper Hill Inc., a leading provider of comprehensive compliance solutions, is pleased to announce the expansion of its services in the export control and compliance field. This new initiative will be spearheaded by Nick Sbroglia, an accomplished professional with over 12 years of experience in export compliance.

As the newly appointed Export Control Program Manager, Nick Sbroglia brings a wealth of knowledge and expertise to Copper Hill. He has a proven track record of providing export compliance guidance and review, conducting investigations and risk assessments for international clients across a wide range of industries. With his extensive background in export compliance, including classification, licensing, USML/ITAR review, restricted party screening, and more, Nick is well-equipped to lead Copper Hill's efforts in this critical area.

"We are delighted to have Nick Sbroglia join our team and lead our new group of services in export control and compliance," said Jenae Ciecko, CEO of Copper Hill Inc. "Nick's deep understanding of the complexities of export regulations, combined with his experience in assisting clients with risk assessment and compliance strategies, will be invaluable to our clients as they navigate the ever-evolving landscape of international trade."

Nick Sbroglia holds a B.A. in English and Political Science from the University of Michigan and a J.D. from the Michigan State University College of Law. His educational background, coupled with his practical experience, enables him to provide comprehensive and tailored solutions to meet the unique compliance needs of Copper Hill's clients.

Copper Hill's new group of services in export control and compliance aims to assist businesses in mitigating risk, ensuring regulatory compliance, and maximizing opportunities in the global marketplace. By offering a range of services including classification, licensing support, restricted party screening, and Due Diligence reviews, Copper Hill will empower its clients to navigate the complex web of export regulations confidently.
